Lockers didn't get done.

Mr. Remy is figuring out how to get more people into Tri-M.

Paul Simon Concert:

- Tarzan is still in charge of writing a proposal for Mr. Rush.
- We should start figuring out the actual music of it soon.
- Do we fundraise for the music program?

Pep Band stuff didn't happen, but the plan is to not start that process until the Spring.

Tri-M Applications:

- Applications due after April Break - Monday, April 25th.
 - If applications are late? - no Tri-M.
 - But make sure the date is SUPER clear.
- Open it up on Monday, April 11th. This gives them two weeks to write their application.
- Mini party? Celebration? Induction? Abduction?

Incoming Freshmen:

- Letters to incoming freshmen.
- Should we do them earlier this year?
- Schedule around shadowing? - no one liked that idea.
- Hancock and Lamoine come here too. Don't forget.
- "Homes are just inward porches!" -Remy, 7:42.
- Make sure Hancock and Lamoine feel safe.

Why are we fighting.

Middle School:

- More interactions.
- Initially relied on lessons...but that didn't happen...miscommunications?
- So we should start interactions with them.
- Just go and see what the teachers need that day. - sometimes lessons, sometimes mini lessons, sometimes just playing with them.
- Some teachers wanted lessons. But that's not quite what we want.
- "Just show up and it's a casual day."
- Have scheduled days and then we just sign up to go.
- Mr. Remy will warn them, and then we will contact them.
- Maybe it's less complicated to have one email. Megan will send the email to re-introduce the idea, find out the times that they have it. Then we'll start coming up with dates.
- The room isn't that important - middle schoolers are more important.
- Twice a week meetings.
- Move it from Friday.
- Move it to 7:30?
- The second meeting could be optional? If you're interested in the topic being discussed that day you could choose to go?
- The second meeting could be a check in meeting?

I think we finished fighting anymore.
