Attendance is probably off - it's always hard to tell when we're in that space. Sorry if I missed your name. :)

Paul Simon:

- There is no way that we can pull off that concert.
- We'll do a few songs for Blueberry Jam
  - Email Will Miller if you want to participate
  - My Little Town, 50 Ways, Still Crazy
- Tri-M is student led - in theory Remy doesn't do anything, except "advise."
- That needs to happen more next year.
- Paul Simon should happen, but Remy shouldn't be that involved.

- You should learn to take things and run with them.

Fundraiser:

- NHS has annual events - we should start instated that, that will happen every year and every gets excited and we always know what to do, etc.
- Maybe like Paul Simon, but instead of an album, do some songs by the artist.
- Music-athon? People pledge to donate money to keep us playing all day.
  - It's open to everybody, not just us.

"I want this Tri-M to be so school that I give a presentation at All-State to get them to be in it."
-Remy, 7:33

Freshmen Day:

- Maybe have a few people come in and get people excited about music on that first day.

Middle School:

- We need to visit more often.
- It was an idea this year that didn't really get put into action. (It did happen, but not very often.)
- Visiting before Middle School Pep would be super exciting.

- No one's too busy. Hannah wrote five. Handwritten, hand drawn.
- People are just sliding by, and we need to start pulling our own weight.

- We should do the rotation again next year. It was good.
  - White boards to save paper.

- Practice Room culture has changed!
- No more...awkward situations.

- Chris Guthrie is going to be the new Connors Emerson teacher. It's either going to fail miserably or thrive.

- We're struggling with janitors.
- We need to be more clean.
  - Better communication.
- We need to be ten times more respectful of them.
- Thank you notes!

- Lockers need to be assigned.
- Bronwyn and Remy are putting in metal shelves places.
- Better use of storage.
